INTRODUCTION

Hunting and trading in wildlife is banned under Wildlife Protection Act (1972), Under it, wildlife is categorized under various schedules. Tigers, Rhinos, Elephant, Leopard etc are among those in Schedule I, i.e. they are endangered and stringently protected. However as far as conviction is concerned for wildlife crime take long time. In the entire history of tiger conservation, there have not been many convictions. For example the legendary Sansar Chand, known as the 'Veerappan of the North', who was sentenced in 1982 for only 10 months also. He was released after six months on the ground that he was only 16 when he was caught. He was arrested subsequently in connection with different cases, but at present in juvenile jail.

Ironically, there have been thousands of seizures and a slew of cases filed all over the country. But conviction is rare in wildlife crime cases. A conviction rate close to 0% in tiger poaching is particularly shocking, considering the steadily falling tiger population.

Tiger Trust, an organization established in the year 1989, was founded by Kailash Shankala working for the conservation of Indian wildlife since last twenty years. One of the major conservation initiatives of Tiger Trust is to do capacity building workshops for the forest officials. Tiger Trust is working with Rajasthan Forest Department since last three years and did several capacity building workshop for the frontline forest officials, as after doing several brainstorming sessions with forest staff Tiger Trust has launched the Training of Trainers program in the state.

Tiger Trust has conducted three consecutive capacity building programs during 2008-2009 under the Training of Trainers program (TOT). The workshops were conducted in collaboration with Rajasthan Forest Department. During each workshop two day interaction sessions were organized on wildlife crime detection, prevention and prosecution. The workshops were conducted at following venues;

- a. Sariska Tiger Reserve, Alwar; 22-23rd September, 2008.
- b. Ranthambore Tiger Reserve, Swai Madhopur; 14-15th February, 2009.
- c. Forest Training Institute, Jaipur; 25-26 April, 2009.

The selection of trainees was among the staff that was trained by respective DFO and resource team of Tiger Trust. Copies of the programs are appended at the end of this report.

The workshop provided an opportunity to enforcement officers (range officers, foresters & assistant conservator of forest) to find the answer of their queries related to wildlife crime prosecution. Under the workshop existing techniques and procedure of wildlife crime prosecution were analyzed and suggestions were given to improve the wildlife crime conviction rate. However the entire support for the workshop was provided by the Rajasthan Forest Department, Government of Rajasthan.

Theme of workshop; During the workshop following points were discussed in details and appropriate guidance was given by the experts to the enforcement staff;

1. Field training for preparation of facts of the case by making spot investigation and detection of crime on information
2. Preparation of complaint, list of witnesses, recording of statements and necessary forms to be treated as a final complaint
3. Trial final argument and short comings to be detected in the preparation and procedures, along with detailed interactive session with judicial member and resource person.

The programme brought together following speakers with complementary expertise:

Mr. Anil Verma, is Additional District Judge in Madhya Pradesh, he was involve in earlier training programs held in Bandhavgarh Tiger Reserve under Tiger Trust. He gave judgment in many wildlife crime cases related to different scheduled species. His keen interest in wildlife has made him to attend the final training program at Forest Training Institute, Jaipur from 25-26th April 2009.

Mr. P. S. Somshekhar, CCF, Wildlife, Rajasthan Forest Department, he was also part of Sariska Tiger relocation project. He is experienced in wildlife crime control and also has enough experience in Protected Area management.

Anjana Gosain, Honorary Secretary, Tiger Trust, is a practicing advocate in Supreme Court and High Court with specialization in environmental law. She has authored compilation of cases under Wildlife Protection Act (1972) and ready reckoner for steps for successful prosecution of wildlife criminals. She is the main backbone in planning the modules which are largely designed on practical aspects of prosecution and emphasis on acts related to wildlife crimes. She has a standing of more than 31 yrs of practice.

Mr. Manjit Ahluwalia has exclusive background of criminal trials particularly cases under Wildlife Protection Act (1972) in the court of Chief Judicial Magistrate. He has been involved in active prosecution cases in Bandhavgarh and Kanha National Park and imparting training at Indira Gandhi Forest Academy, Dehradun. He is responsible for organizing mock courts, detailed court procedure for recording evidence to depose as a witness and also in teaching the ancillary acts in wildlife has helped the forest officials to make wildlife crime cases more strong.

Mr. Rohit Singh, Project Coordinator, Tiger Trust; He is working for wildlife crime control since last four years. He worked with several NGOs and GOs for wildlife enforcement training. He attended several National and International conferences in India as well as abroad. He was awarded by University of Cambridge for his work on Black Bear Gall bladder trade.

FIELD TRAINING

The field training sessions on various Acts relating to wildlife crimes i.e. Wildlife Protection Act, 1972, Criminal Procedure Code, Indian Evidence Act and other ancillary Acts, practical field training program were conducted. Under this program forest officials were taught about the investigation and preparation of the documents on the spot. Following schedule was followed under this programme:

- a) Mock Information of discovery of skin/bones in the park.
- b) Two different jeeps having four rangers each would go on the spot and they would be asked to prepare the seizure memo, and site plan.
- c) Mock information with regard to movement of suspicious persons by the patrolling party and the same team rushes to the spot and questions those persons, out of which one is detained and the other absconds.
- d) The person under detention on questioning discloses the offence relating to the discovery of skin and points out the area where the weapon was hidden.
- e) The accused accompanies the party and on the basis of statement, the weapon is discovered and trainees were asked to prepare the seizure memo.
- f) After this information, the person is brought at Chowki and ACF is informed for recording the statement and the ACF to recorded the statement.
- g) However, after this the field training was complete but for this forest staff requested two mock volunteers from village who acted as the accused to get the authenticity of the offence.

Rangers have made two sample cases after this program on their own, they have used all the knowledge given to them in earlier workshops about the wildlife laws. This field session was conducted in Sariska Tiger Reserve, Alwar.

A training session was conducted in Ranthambore Tiger Reserve for and following Acts were discussed in details during the workshop;

- 1. Wildlife Protection Act (1972): This act provides protection to birds, animals, plants and other matters related to them. This act is applicable throughout India except the state of Jammu & Kashmir. It grants powers to the forest officials for detection, investigation and prosecution.

- 2. Indian Evidence Act 1872: The Act deals with the system of prosecution under which evidences is recorded.

- 3. Criminal Procedure code 1973: The law relating to criminal procedure applicable to all proceeding in India (except those in states of Jammu & Kashmir and Nagaland the tribal areas in Assam) is contained in the code of criminal procedure, 1989. The code has been amended from time to time by various Acts of the Central and states legislatures. The more important of these were the amendments brought about by Central Legislation in 1923 and 1955.

PROSECUTION UNDER WPA (1972)

The mock cases made by the forest officials in Sariska during the second workshop were discussed in detail in the third session. The session was held in Forest Training Institute, Jaipur from 25-26th April, 2009. The session was preceded by Mr. Anil Verma, Additional District Judge, Madhya Pradesh. The sample cases were analyzed by the judicial expert Mr. Anil Verma. The most important part of this program was to do sample trial in front of judge, this has provided opportunity to forest staff to fill the loopholes of wildlife crime cases.

Final interaction/questioning of participants: A questioning/interaction session was done on the mock cases made by the forest staff in presence of Mr. Anil Verma, Additional District Judge, Madhya Pradesh. The session was aimed to fill the loopholes of the poaching cases.

RECOMMENDATION & CONCLUSION

After the workshop following recommendations were given by Mr. Anil Verma, ADJ, Madhya Pradesh and Resource Personnel Ms. Anjana Gosain, Mr. Manjit Ahluwalia for and Mr. P.S. Somshekhar for the successful conviction of wildlife crime cases;

- A. Preliminary Official Report (POR) has to be filled, it is equal to First Information Report (FIR).
- B. Once the accused is being arrested the Investigation Officer (IO) should get himself checked by the accused so that no indiscriminate articles are found for which the officer can be blamed later.
- C. If the incident occurs in Protected area (National Park or Wildlife Sanctuary), always attach the notification of the declaration of that particular PA.
- D. Resolution of a criminal case is perfectly co-related with strategic evidence collections with greater accuracy from the scene of offence. It requires a patient, calculative and careful effort to collect substantial linking evidences to establish the crime in the court of law at beyond reasonable doubt. So all evidences has to be collected in proper way, no evidence should be avoided.
- E. Always mention in the report that you were carrying kit with you during the raid/operation. This will help the enforcement officer to justify their report in better way.
- F. Crime scene map has to be made properly with all land marks, distance and time.
- G. In wildlife seizures most of the time forest officials seize the weapons (leg hold traps, nets, spears, gun etc). Always give proper description of every seized weapon.
- H. It is observed that in some wildlife crime cases that papers are not marked with government seals, so every paper has to be marked with Government Seal.
- I. Article 22(2) of the Constitution of India requires that person arrested or detained in custody should be produced before the nearest Magistrate within 24 hours of such arrest excluding the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the court of the Magistrate, and that no such person should be detained beyond such period without the authority of the Magistrate. After the arrest identification parade is advisable, this will make the case strong. It can be organized by giving application to executive magistrate.

- J. Extra judicial confession, (in terms of section 50 sub clause 9) to be recorded by ACF with due care which should not show any coercion and fear and possibility to get evidence which is more corroborative in nature.
- K. Always make separate statement for every witness, change the language of the statement, all the statement text should not be same.
- L. Always give receiving of all the documents in court.

Selection of Master Trainers; At the end of the Training of Trainers (TOT) program two master trainers were selected from the forest staff to provide further training in their respective divisions and parks. These master trainers were Mr. A. K. Jha, Range Officer Sariska Tiger Reserve and Mr. Arun Sharma, Range Officer, Ranthambore Tiger Reserve. Two other names were also proposed for the future master trainer, these were Mr. Vijay Pal Singh, Range Officer, Kherwada & Mr. K. K. Sharma, Range Officer, and Wildlife Flying Squad.

Suggestions from the participants:

- Duration of training should be more than two days.
- These training should be done at divisional level.
- Outside protected area staff should also be involved in the training program.
- Trainings should be done at every six months.
- Forest Conservation Act should also be covered under the training.
- Some forest officials should also make in charge for the training.
- Live animal trade should also be discussed under this workshop.
- Training should also be given about identification of skin, bones and other wildlife articles.
